

Brigade Walkout Dress – Class D Uniform

Occasions for Wear:

1. On duty, as prescribed by Brigade and/or local commanders.
2. On other appropriate occasions, as desired.
3. The Brigade Office Dress is authorized for year-round wear by all personnel and is the normal service uniform for office or other light duty/summer use. It allows for a more formal look than Convention minimum without as much Cost.

Composition: Black Dress Shirt: This is a buttoned black shirt, long or short sleeved, with two button-down chest pockets and shoulder epaulets. This is often called an aviator style shirt and is often worn by security officers and policemen. The shirt is worn tucked into the pants, so that the front row of buttons (the Gig Line) lines up with the belt buckle and closure of the pants.

Pants: The pants are low waist, flat front, straight legged, without cuffs, and with side hip pockets. There is a wide range of acceptable materials, but every effort should be made to use the same material as the jacket. The black pants may be worn bloused or unbloused with boots, or unbloused with dress shoes, or they can be the standard, black BDU six-pocket pants. The material may be cotton (winter weight) or ripstop nylon (summer weight).

Belt: The black web belt is authorized for wear with the pants.

Headgear: The black, eight-point cover, black beret, or black baseball style cap with SFMC, BDE or Unit patch affixed may be worn. In summer a Boonie hat be worn as required outdoors.

Footwear: Black military style boots or Black Oxford Dress shoes.

Insignia & Accoutrements: Only the following items are authorized for wear.

Insignia of Grade – All Marines will wear rank insignia on both collars. As an option, Marines may wear collar brass on the left collar in lieu of rank. Collar rank can be excluded and replaced with Collar Brass if Rank Slip On are worn on both shoulder epaulets.

- Officer's Bars – centered, top edge of collar to bottom edge, 1-inch from the forward edge of the collar, Officer bars will be spaced 1/8-inch apart, and any filled (black bars) are worn furthest from the forward edge of the collar toward the back of the neck. See Appendix A for placement.

- NCO Chevrons – worn centered, left to right, 1-inch from the tip of the collar, along an imaginary line drawn from the tip of the collar. Greatest number of chevrons will be worn upward, pointing toward the neck.

Collar Brass – If worn in lieu of rank the brass will be worn in the same manner as the rank insignia. See Appendix A for placement.

Brigade Patch - If worn, is worn centred on the right shoulder, 1/2 inch below the shoulder.

Optional Nametape - worn centred on the right pocket with the bottom of the tape flush with the top pocket flap seam and running from pocket edge to pocket edge. Lettering on the nametape is yellow and displays the wearer's last name. As per brigade issued allowance this may have a red maple leaf.

Optional SFMC Tape - worn centred on the left pocket with the bottom of the tape flush with the top pocket flap seam and running from pocket edge to pocket edge. Lettering on the nametape is yellow and displays SFMC. As per brigade issued allowance this may have a red maple leaf.

Branch Devices (Type A Insignia) - may be either a pin or embroidered patch. Worn 1/4-inch above and centred on the SFMC tape. Only one branch device will be worn at any time.

Combadge/Branch Badge - is worn centred on the left breast pocket flap.

Qualification Badges (Type B Insignia) - may be a either pin or embroidered patch. Worn 1/4-inch above and centred on the right chest pocket nametape.

Unit and Campaign Ribbons – Can be worn if the Uniform doesn't have name tape. Worn aligned directly on the top edge of, and centered on, the right chest pocket flap.

Ribbon Rack – Can be worn if the Uniform doesn't have SFMC Tape. Worn aligned directly on the top edge of, and centered on, the left chest pocket flap.
